

T. K. Adventure Play

Loose parts adventure play for kids;
professional development for educators

Tanya Moxley, MBA, M.Ed.
Adventure Play Ambassador

Contact us today to schedule a professional development session for your staff to learn about the importance of unstructured loose parts play for children!

(902) 499-1897
www.TKAdventurePlay.com
TKAdventurePlay@gmail.com
www.twitter.com/TMox_NS

Topics Covered

1. What are loose parts, and why should we have some?
2. The importance of unstructured play.
3. Taking loose parts outside.
4. Acquiring and storing loose parts.
5. Adventure Play session for children in your care.
6. Observations and reflections.
7. Next steps.

Materials You Receive

1. A list of local places where a wide variety of low-cost loose parts items can be found.
2. A handout for children to take home to parents about the value of loose parts play.
3. A resource package for your staff with ideas for starting your own indoor and outdoor loose parts collections, as well as storage suggestions.
4. PD hours certificate for each attending staff.

Timing

Recommended timing is 2 hours for initial session, one adventure play session for the children in your care (90 / 180min), plus one follow-up hour for observations, reflections, and next step plans.

Contact us for costs and scheduling options.